

Simona Halep

Simona Halep is the most famous tennis player in Romania. She was born on 27th September 1991. She started playing tennis at four. At 16 she moved to Bucharest to continue her career in tennis. In May 2008, she won two junior tournaments: ITF in Bucharest, in front of Stephanie Vogtsoth, tournament Trofeo Benfiglio where she defeated Bogdana Janasewski. At The Junior tournament at Poland Gornos, Halep won in front of the 10th favourite, Elena Bogdan. The first big performance in a WTA tournament was reached at the competition in April 2010 in Marbella, Spain.

After qualifications, Halep reached the quarterfinals, where she was defeated by Flavia Pennetta. Between 3 and 16 June 2013, she won the tournament in Nurnberg. The following week Simona won the tournament in Den Bosch held on the grass. In Budapest, Halep managed to win the third tournament of her career. In New Haven United States, Halep managed to win the fourth tournament of her career. Two months later in Moscow, she managed to triumph in the fifth final of her career. On 3rd November, Simona won the final tournament of champions in Sofia, the sixth and last tour that she won in 2013. On 16th February 2014, Halep won the Qatar Open. It is the seventh tournament won by Simona Halep.

One week after Wimbledon, she participated in the first edition of BRD Bucharest Open where she managed to stand in front of the Italian Roberta Vinci in the final. In January 2015, she won the tournament in Shenzhen defeating Timea Bacsinszky in the final. In February, Halep won her 10th WTA title in Dubai. In March, Halep won her first Premier Mandatory title at the Indian Wells Masters.

So far Simona Halep is a very good player and so I hope that she will be in 2016.

I love you,

Simona Halep!
